YEARBOOK
OF
EUREKA HIGH SCHOOL
EUREKA, MISSOURI
1956

THEME

The Eurekana Staff of 1955-56 chose recordings as the theme of this book, because through recorded music so much pleasure is given to the world. Popular songs and dance music provided our student body with many hours of pleasure during the school year. Dramatics interpretations, famous words, and music by incomparable musicians are made available for the listening pleasure of everyone through our modern records.

History has now been recorded, and famous speeches by men of world-renown are made available for posterity. Plays and poetry recorded by famous artists in their field are used to help students understand and enjoy these literary masterpieces. Languages are taught by records; the blind are able to enjoy recordings of literature. Recordings offer a long, unending list of pleasing aids in various fields of modern living.

This modern method of entertainment, recorded for our listening pleasure, has made the world a more pleasant place in which to live, to work and to play. Thus we dedicate our Eurekana to one of the miracles of our modern age — recordings.

All Through

A Message From . . .

It has always been true in America that the people with ability and a desire to secure a good education were the most successful people. These were the men and women who helped make our country powerful and prosperous.

Other countries are now learning that trained minds are necessary if a society is to develop the potential of its people. As a result of this awakening, the educational systems of many countries are receiving top priority in the resources of their governments.

For the past twenty-five years many of the leaders of our country have not been as concerned about our educational system as they should have been; and, as a result, our country may find itself lagging in the supply of trained people available to operate our complex society.

Opportunities were never greater for an intelligent American youth. Each of you attending Eureka High School has an opportunity beyond your imagination to contribute to your own welfare and to that of your country. You have a broad choice of subjects; mathematics are here; the science curriculum is adequate; English and the social studies are offered in abundance; many vocational subjects are now available for those desiring them; a good fine arts curriculum and excellent sports and health programs are avilable. It is only necessary for you to have the determination to master what is offered to you.

It is encouraging for me to detect a greater desire on the part of most of you to do a better job in your school work than you have ever done. This attitude must prevail in every American school if we are to stay in the forefront of the great countries of the world. May each of our graduates preserve this desire for excellence throughout his life.

. . . The Administration

The Eureka High School serves a large area and the students now in school will go into many different fields of work after graduating: the professions, business, farming, homemaking, and the trades. The program of subjects has been set up to meet the needs and interests of all types of students and also to meet the needs of the community which we serve. We now offer vocational agriculture, vocational homemaking, commercial subjects, industrial arts, driver education and the traditional college entrance subjects.

While the first objective of every modern school is that of teaching students the required subject matter, contemporary life demands so much more than learning from citizens that schools are attempting to meet the current needs. Today's well adjusted people must be able to get along with those who work with them and must be able to accept a certain amount of responsibility. Some are called upon as leaders; more must be trained to be intelligent followers of these leaders. The fast pace of modern life demands physical vitality and mental alertness. With increasingly shorter working hours, there are many hours of leisure which must be wisely filled. Such requirements can not be handled entirely in classroom situations; therefore, our expanded program of extra-curricular activities, where students working as members of a team, a cast, a staff or a group activity may learn to adjust to the various people with whom they are very closely associated, may accept the responsibility such group membership entails, may learn to lead well, or to follow intelligently, in other words may become well-rounded personalities.

Congratulations to the seniors who are graduating this year; I hope your future experiences may be more successful for having spent these years at Eureka High School.

Board of Education

A Board of Education is one of the most important elected bodies of men and women who serve each community in America. Generally these citizens serve without pay and have as their only motive the promotion of the welfare of the children by giving their time for the general direction of the schools in their community.

No institutions in our country are closer to the will of the people than are our schools. For this reason you will find a great variance in the quality of our schools. Some communities will not be satisfied except with the best that can be afforded. Other communities are not too concerned with the education of their children; and as a result, the schools meet few of the present day needs.

Fortunately, our community has men who are concerned about the schools and are daily giving thought to the many problems facing them. In this expanding community the problem of securing good schools is difficult. One reason for the continued progress of our schools has been the confidence the community has been willing to place in the men who direct the broad policies under which the schools operate.

CLASS WILL

Being of sound and disposing mind, the members of the Senior Class of Eureka High School hereby bequeath the following parcels of goods to various legatees.

Jerry Corley gives his all around athletic ability to Robert Horneker. Jerry Hagemeister leaves his Innocent Look to Jim Brown. Barbara Hemann bequeaths her pony tail to Shirley Hall. Ann Howald leaves her giggles to Carolyn Walke. George Hudson inherits Jim Traiteur's ability to dazzle the girls. Ray Bopp donates his pitching arm to Richard Cloak. Jorden Vesper gives his gavel to the next president. Judy Marchbank leaves her ability to play the clarinet to Bob Fridley. Don Collins wills his ability to drag to Bob Glaser. Betty Cerny contributes her singing talent to Jane Buddemeyer. Reid Bohning is the recipient of Bill Hafley's clever remarks. Dave Hall leaves his ability to get through small places to Bill Wientge. Chuck Alt is taking Nita with him. Paul Heinzel leaves Mary Ann Myers, but not because he wants to. Jerry Donovan donates his long eyelashes to some girl who would love to have them.

Jim Murray wills a seldom used razor to Wayne Ruck. Sandra Duff bequeaths her artistic works to Mary Bray; with this added ability Mary will really go far. Jim Keener gives his brains to his little brother John whether he needs them or not. Ruth Ann Atwell and Doris Wright pass on their Eurekana editorships to any juniors who are lucky enough to receive the honor. Nancy Lee Taus and JoAnn Konneman will their cars to any underclassmen who are not lucky enough to have them. Allan Koebel leaves his flying ability to Bill Dintleman. Carol Aubuchon and Gloria Weber will their quiet ways to Norma Bell. Penny Brockmeyer allows Bev Nelson to have her seat on bus No. 5. Barbara Anderson hands her athletic talent to Rosemary Waters. Bill Lewis gives his wonderful bass voice to Kurt Diekmann for solo parts. Myrna Sparks gladly divides her height with Harry Hibbert.

Forrest Gilley wills his zoot trumpet to Don Krueger. Carol Buermann and Grace Piel bequeath their quiet ways to the trouble-makers in study hall. Carol Ann Haug wills her dancing ability to all the Freshies whose theme song is "Stumblin!" Waunetta Wynn leaves her piano playing artistry to anyone who will contribute this talent to the choir. James Umphres lets a future Latin I & II sufferer have his E in Latin. James Miederhoff gives his 1st alto sax spot in the band to Reid Bohning. John Johnson and John Paul Jones leave their seats in the Dance Band to some new rhythm makers. Carol Lee Funk bequeaths her tenor voice to Clarence Grimes, who does all right on his own. Barb Ferguson lets anyone who can fill them have her tight skirts. Larry Burns deserts his seat in Literature to one of next year's tragedy readers. Charles Davis leaves his method of doing homework at the last minute to some unsuspecting Freshman. Kenneth Signor and Bobby Schimsa decided to give their flat tops to Sidney Hammer and Steve Mulvaney. Donald Shaffrey was going to tell us what he wanted to leave behind, but instead he took a nap in American Problems.

Susie Gudermuth wills her sweetness to the Freshmen Class. Bill Norsworthy leaves his collection of Pin-ups in his locker to the highest bidder . . . line forms to the right. David Messerla gives his little black book full of phone numbers and addresses to his brother, Mike. Sue Taber is the recipient of Susan Case's beads. Margaret Cooksey hands on her bobby pins to Jolene Pantland. Mary Dudley leaves her job on the office staff to someone who wants it. Mary Duncan donates her comical ways to Betty Hull. Dave Edington contributes his active place in F F A to David Shelton. Ronald Flentgen deserts his position in choir to a baritone. Barbara Flagg gives her task of giving the response to anyone who has the speaking voice to do it. Judy Fritz leaves her pleasing disposition because we think more EHS students need it. Rose Marie Fuson passes on her pleasing smiles to Jane Buddemeyer.

Vincent Howard wills his white and black shoes to any claimant. Judy Baumer leaves her gay spirit to pep up the school in the future. Judie Benton is leaving her swing to her sister, Janet. Victor Smith bequeaths his corny jokes to Vivian. Dorothy Roberts donates her long black hair to Marlene Schnarr. Pattie Parker transmits her lively disposition to Marilyn Blanc. Judy Rowe gets Doris McGee's position as cheerleader. Mary Louise Trog hands on her neat appearance to anyone who needs it. Neil Preiss, Leroy Kelley, and Orville Boemler give their height to Perkins. Hazel Schreiber leaves her collection of boy friends to Joan Feco, who does all right on her own. Dave Mulvaney wills his curly hair to Mike Corley. Wayne West would like to let someone have his wolf techniques, but no one will have them. August Rusert and Don Paubel leave — they hope! Robert Barton wills his ability to be tardy to Danny Corley and Richard Haug. Jackie Bennett and Roger Bennett give their scientific knowledge to Georgie. Marshall Hinkle has the gift of Allan Stroud's speed. Kenneth King wants all the girls to have his curly hair. Betty Bongner leaves Mrs. Moriarity to the O'Day twins. Jane Branson and Faye Schubel allow Dorothy Kraus and June Hodges to use their locker and bottle of Jergens hand lotion. Joann Tilker leaves her cat-eye glasses to Judith Frye. Clyde Brinley hands his membership in the U. N. to John Campbell whether he wants it or not. To Glenna Huskey goes Joyce Bryeans' diamond.

Virginia Woods gives her Latin translations to the future Latin students. Nancy Wendell gladly passes on her blush to some of these "real cool" pasty-faced kids around here. Ruth Rufkahr bequeaths her ability to keep one man to the less fortunate gals of E. H. S. Karen Fick leaves her typing mistakes to anybody who will claim them. Kay

McKinley's beautiful brown hair goes to Suzanne Maas. John Waters walks away from his Driver's Ed. Class with no regrets. Richard Walsh leaves his skating ability to Barry Bennett since he spends most of his time on the floor. JoAnn Varone gives her nostalgic memories of E. H. S. to Clarice Pemberton, who has plenty of her own already, although she has only been here one year. Susie Gudermuth donates her beautiful complexion to any girls who want it. Bill Rowe is glad that he is departing so he can join Margaret Kincaid. Garnet Wunderlich gives her typing speed to anyone who can use it. Mary Sue Goodner contributes her baton twirling to Janet Benton. Bob Hacke leaves his "bomb" to Melvin Polkinghorne who definitely could use a change from his scooter. Joyce Hinds wills her dimples to Sharon Funk. Kenneth Harris leaves his wavy hair to Mark Haley who has plenty of his own. Wayne Harness passes on his quick answers in chemistry to all the chemistry students of next year. Dave Monroe gives his height to Bill Weintge. Dennis Nolde wills his black hair to Mary Gudermuth. We wonder how she will like the new color. Irene Rackovan leaves behind her hook shot in basketball to all the future Billikin players. Gerald Pemberton and Bill Rowe leave their mechanical brains to anyone who can repair Mrs. Stenerson's "rod" when it's out of whack.

The Senior Class as a whole bequeaths the choice seats in assembly to the Juniors, who have been waiting for the chance to sit in them for three years. To the sophomores we leave our determination to enjoy every minute of our High School experiences. To the Freshmen we leave our ability to arrange our schedule to get out on first bell all of the time.

Departing seniors in band leave behind a memory of four active and pleasant years filled with activity, musical and social, and kinda wish in a way that they could take more than the memories with them. To the many juniors waiting with bated breath, the American Problems and Bookkeeping classes leave their empty classrooms. The bookkeeping students might like to pass on their completed workbooks, but wary Miss J. says no. The speech classes leave an empty stage and an untouched assembly schedule to the next year's assortment.

The "advanced" girls having profited from a year of "laboratory" work in the office, are now ready to turn over their experimental stations to the new class of aspiring office workers.

The publications class, all seniors, leaves as a record of a year of hard but pleasant work, this 1956 Eurekana, trusting the students will enjoy the efforts of the class.

All dispositions are final and binding.

Attested this 24th day of May in the year of our Lord 1956.

went off the air. Nancy Lee Taus was working on Betty Crocker's program, but now she has her own homemaking show. On Search For Tomorrow, we find Faye Schubel in a very serious love entanglement which threatens to ruin her young life if things don't get better.

Victor Smith is now teaching shorthand and typing at EHS and among his pupils he finds brothers and sisters of his own classmates. Barb Ferguson, Judy Fritz, and Karen Fick are singing together and their sister act is now playing at the Palladium in London. They have been there for a month and are still wowing them. Dave Edington went West to seek his fame and fortune and is now one of Hollywood's top movie producers. Ronald Flentgen is an eminent minister and is now traveling around the country lecturing on "Man and His Struggle To Exist In a Hostile World." Mary Sue Goodner has just been crowned Baton-Twirling Queen of the World at the annual contest in Miami. All you cats look out! Susie Gudermuth and her partner, Barb Flagg, are fingerprint experts with the F.B.I., and they have the prints of all their classmates.

Vincent Howard's debating ability has stood him in good stead. He has been active in Washington for a long while and is now our ambassador to Italy, France, Poland, and Russia. Bob Hacke and Ken Harris are still up to their monkeyshines. But that's because they're working in an auto body shop as grease monkeys. Wayne Harness and Lorraine Hartmann are in Rome studying to be sculptors. Wayne's first effort, which he entitled "Nothing", won a blue ribbon at a recent exhibition in Paris. John Johnson, John Paul Jones, and Jim Miederhoff are now getting their 56 piece orchestra ready for their opening at the Copa Cabana. This engagement will mark their fourth anniversary on the nightclub circuit. David Messerla is a barber. It took him a long time to get here, because he couldn't learn to shave the balloon without breaking it. His specialty now is the Hollywood Haircut.

Dave Mulvaney is a tap dancing instructor at Arthur Van Muriel's Studio and is so good that he is bringing tap dancing into the ballroom. Bobby Schimsa became mayor of Eureka three years ago and has been mayor ever since. He attributes all his campaigning success to Miss E. Johnson's speech class. Dennis Nolde and Dave Monroe are serving life terms in the French Foreign Legion. And why? To get away from the girls who were chasing them so furiously. They joined the Legion just last year. Joyce Hinds is now Dean of one of Missouri's top universities. Allan Koebel is giving flying lessons—kite flying, that is. His plane went down two weeks ago and he is trying to earn enough to buy another plane by giving these lessons.

Bill Lyons is now modeling eye lashes for the "Our Own Oddities" Company. He has worked for them since they saw his picture in the Eurekana. Jo Ann Konneman answered the $64,000,000 question on last week's program and went out and bought Texas the next day. By the way, Hal March had to quit because he started slipping the contestants easy questions and Bill Lewis took over his job as M. C. on the program. Doris McGee and Pat Lanpher took jobs as cigarette girls at Ciro's so that they can get free all the cigarettes they want. Doctor Jim Murray is now the physician at EHS. His specialty is broken noses, but he will repair the minor damage done by the reckless here. Irene Rackovan, a stewardess on the EFE Special—Escape From Eureka, is engaged to the pilot of her plane. Very soon she is going to give up her job and get married. She wonders what kind of stewardess her husband will get once she is on the ground. Dorothy Roberts is using her talent for twisting pretzels at the Sally-No-Good Company. She is the originator of the delightful new shapes in pretzels these days.

Bill Rowe is running a used car lot. "Here today, gone tomorrow" is his motto. And he is certainly right. He has a complete turnover every day. Of course, he has only two cars on his lot at a time and that may account for it. Ruth Rufkahr has taken over Martha Cur's column in the Sunday Evening Post. People from all over the world write to her, and she answers all of them personally, writing an average of 300 letters a day. Myrna Sparks has married her Texan and they have moved to the Sahara Desert where they are caretakers of the oases. Allan Stroud now owns a Turkish Bath. Through a dense fog we see him at his occupation of chief masseur. James Umphres was one of his best customers for so long that Allan took him into partnership. Jo Ann Varone is still working her way through college studying to be a licorice twister. Must be a tough course. John Waters is now a Professor of Fine Arts at the Academy of North Africa. He teaches the natives how to play a congo drum like Brandy Marlo.

We see that Nancy Wendell owns her own Rhythm and Blues record shop on Hollywood and Vine. Her most frequent customer is that real gone gal, Sandy Duff, who buys all the newest records as soon as they are released. Last of all, we see through the crystal ball that Gloria Webber is modeling Goggle-Lu eye glasses for the Oop Shoop Spectacle Company.

Now that we have seen what the Senior Class of 1956 will be doing 10 years from now, the haze returns to cloud the crystal ball for another year. We hope that the members of the class will go out immediately after graduation and apply for their respective jobs.

SENIOR COMMITTEE

Senior Class History

This is strictly for the records of our four years at Eureka High. One hundred and fifty nine meek "freshies" passed through the doors of the brick building on the "hilltop", as Ole Susie our record player, weakly gave out with TOO YOUNG.

From the one hundred fifty nine, we chose as our Student Council disc-jockeys: Doris McGee, Alfred Baumer, Carol Buerman and Mickey Miles. As the leader of our freshman class, Ray Bopp was chosen president; to assist him Darlene Harris was elected vice-president. To keep our records in order, Barbara Hemann was chosen secretary treasurer.

The summer quickly passed, and in the fall of '53 only one hundred twenty seven returned to hear the melody of "I'm A DREAMER" from Susie. Although we weren't quite as green as the previous record showed, we were still a little retiring. However, not noticably so, when we chose our disc-jockys for '53-'54. On the Student Council were Virginia Woods, Pattie Parker, Doris McGee, Joan Diehl and Billy Hafley. Neil Preiss, chosen as president, led our sophomore class very well. Helping him as vice-president was Jorden Vesper, with Carol Buerman as secretary-treasurer.

In the spring of '54 Jorden Vesper represented us at Jefferson City. This trip was made possible by the Federated Womens' Association.

Once again after a vacation one hundred seven students returned to make our junior year one of our best. To do this job, Ray Bopp, Patsy Kirkland, Judy Fritz and Jorden Vesper were selected as '54-'55 disc-jockeys for the Student Council. Jim Traiteur, president; Jerry Corley, vice-president; Nancy Taus secretary, and Jim Murray as treasurer made a fine team to lead our class.

And so ended our junior year to the record "NO HELP WANTED," for we were beginning to become a little more independent.

The fall of '55 came and once again our class, now totaling one hundred eight, entered the school house on the "hilltop", this time for our final year. Susie was giving out melodies from "HIGH AND MIGHTY"—for after three years we were at last seniors.

To begin the last year, we wisely chose Bill Norsworthy, David Hall, Forrest Gilley and Jorden Vesper, who was later chosen president of council, as our Student Council members. Leading our class were Ray Bopp, president; Jim Murray, vice president; Pattie Parker, secretary; and Bill Hafley, treasurer.

Our senior team played the juniors in the annual softball game. Sadly Susie played "MESSIN' AROUND" as the seniors lost 9 - 8.

Many other events, the Junior-Senior Prom, the senior play and the junior-senior basketball game made our final year very pleasant.

The senior committee guided our activities during our senior year, planning the hayride and picnic. The committee chose the white carnation for the class flower, and navy blue and white for the colors. "Not for ourselves, but for all", is the motto of the class of 1956.

The senior sponsors were Coach Rayon, Miss Ethel Pierce, Miss Wilma Johnson, Mr. Henry Hyde, and Mr. J. Varnum Jones. After a wonderful year and tearful good-byes, we say so long to E. H. S. on Thursday, May 31, when we graduate and receive our diplomas, as members of the class of 1956 of Eureka High School.

JUNIOR HISTORY

Very shy and bashful, the class of 1957 entered EHS as freshmen in the fall of 1953. They elected as their leaders Bob Fridley, president; June Hodges, vice-president; and Sandra Sides, secretary-treasurer. Kurt Diekmann, Bob Fridley, Jane Buddemeyer, Carolyn Benson, and Dixie Grenn were chosen to carry out their wishes on the Student Council.

As sophomores, when they returned for another year at Eureka, they elected as their capable leaders: Kurt Diekmann, president; Charles Wagner, vice-president; and Dixie Grenn, secretary-treasurer. Sue Taber, Carolyn York, Dixie Grenn, Carolyn Benson, and Bob Glaser were chosen to represent them on the student council. The honor of being the sophomore outstanding citizen was gladly accepted by Charles Wagner.

As juniors they came back very confident and elected as their leaders: Wayne Ruck, president; John Campbell, vice-president; Judy Rowe, secretary; and Nancy Barnhart, treasurer. Susan Williamson, George Arft, June Hodges, Vivian Smith, and Judy Rowe were elected to the Student Council.

Their play "Love is in the Air" under the direction of Miss E. Johnson was well presented and well attended by all. It was a darling love story which turned out well for all.

The Junior-Prom Committee, directed very capably by Mrs. Bette Gudermuth, planned the elaborate prom which was the glittering windup to the social season. The efforts of the committee were appreciated by all in attendance.

Student Council

Early in the fall of 1955 the student council, one of the most important organizations in our school, was elected. The creditable choice of council members may be attributed to the members of the home rooms, who thought these particular people would faithfully perform the multiple tasks which they were called upon to execute throughout the year.

This year the council elected Jorden Vesper, president; David Hall, vice-president; Janet Benton, secretary-treasurer.

In the meetings, council members have an opportunity to express the ideas of their fellow students; very often these ideas are made into motions and favorably passed upon.

The social calendar of the year is planned by the group, and the all-school parties are general favorites with the student body.

The council honors the members of the basketball team by presenting the basketball prom. They also serve the school by operating the supply store.

Under the competent direction of Miss Wilma Johnson and Mr. Jones, the student council has done a wonderful job.

National Honor Society

This year marks the sixth anniversary of the formation of the Eureka Chapter of the National Honor Society.

The faculty members select the girls and boys for membership, taking into consideration character, leadership, service, and scholarship.

Of the five per cent eligible last spring, the folowing were chosen: Jorden Vesper, president; Carol Lee Funk, secretary; Jim Keener, Susie Gudemuth, Ann Howald, and Betty Cerny.

In November, an additional three seniors were added to the club, Judy Marchbank, Ruth Anne Atwell, and Doris Wright.

During the second semester the following students were selected for membership: seniors, Virginia Woods, Carol Aubuchon, Kay McKinley, Barbara Flagg, Judy Benton, Nancy Taus, and Susan Case; juniors, June Steffan, Sandra Sides, Wayne Ruck, Jane Buddemeyer, Charles Wagner, and Carolyn Benson.

On December 27, the annual National Honor Society was held at the Al-Pac. The reunion of the past and present members provided an enjoyable evening for all.

Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America have completed another year as one of Eureka's most active organizations. Their instructor and sponsor is Mr. Eldon Powell, the Vocational Agriculture teacher.

Members participated in the tractor rodeo at St. James and won a livestock award at Illinois National Stockyards. Members of the group also participated in dairy and poultry judging contests.

The Future Farmers have monthly meetings to discuss business and to plan entertainment. This year they have had various social activities including the "Barnwarming" and numerous field trips. The boys presented an assembly in February.

ANNUAL EDITORS

Ruth Atwell - Doris Wright

The publications class again this year edited both the Bugle and Eurekana. Ruth Anne Atwell was elected editor of the annual, and she chose Doris Wright as her assistant.

Class selected Judy Baumer to edit the Bugle, and Ann Howald was chosen co-editor. Jorden Vesper was elected business manager for the year.

The first task of the newly elected editors and staff was to select a theme for the annual; having selected recordings as the theme, the class began work in earnest.

The Bugle, the monthly paper of E.H.S., serves as a medium for news and entertainment for the whole school. The special edition for Valentine's Day was run at school.

Several bulletins for the R-6 district were edited and prepared for distribution by the class; Virginia Woods, Ronald Flentoen, and Carol Aubuchon undertook the duties of editing these bulletins.

United Nations Committee

In October, our delegates to the model United Nations General Assembly met in the St. Louis University auditorium. Representing the Dominican Republic, they heard a roster of speakers from India, England, and the United States.

The model assembly sponsored by the League of Women Voters discussed the program of Technical Assistance to underprivileged nations. After this discussion, three students from different schools were awarded the all expense paid trips to New York and Washington, D. C.

Future Homemakers of America

The Eureka Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America was organized eight years ago; since then the organization has acquired a membership of ninety-seven and has become one of the most active clubs in our school.

During the first meeting, a picnic at Babler Park, the following officers were elected: Judy Marchbank, president; Nancy Taus, vice-president; Susie Gudermuth, secretary; Rose Fuson, treasurer; Gwen Graham, historian; Janet Benton, parliamentarian; Sandy Sides, song leader; Ellen Netscher, reporter. Under the guidance of these officers and the sponsor, Mrs. Rose Shanight, the girls have participated not only in local chapter meetings, but also in sub-district, district and state meetings.

"Typewriter Song"

Office Staff

The girls of the Advanced Secretarial Class form the office staff which works in our administrators' offices. This work is part of their regular classroom study. They are learning many of the office's duties from their teacher, Mrs. Gudermuth, and the two secretaries, Miss Pounds, and Mrs. Sides. The girls' knowledge of shorthand, typing, mimeographing, and filing has been proved very useful many times.

This actual work experience which the girls receive is very helpful to them since many of them obtain secretarial positions after graduation.

This group is one of several organizations which contribute to the efficient operation of the school. The students profit from the assistance offered by this capable group of workers.

The principles which are taught in the class room are applied in this "laboratory experiment," and this type of cooperative effort has proven very successful.

"Hernando's Hideaway"

Library Staff

At the beginning of the school year, it is one of the important duties of Mrs. Stenerson to chose students to assist her with the work in the library. The main requirement for the student librarian is a knowledge of the library system, but many other things are considered, such as ability to alphabetize efficiently and quickly, a willingness to work and give spare time, and the ability to get along with other students.

During the course of a year the librarian is asked innumerable questions, which are always answered to the best of his or her ability. In a typical day such questions as these might be asked: "Who wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin?". "Where can you find who said, 'Don't fire until you can see the whites of their eyes'?", "Where can I find a copy of Longfellow's poems?", "What is the population of Russia?", "When did the law for automobile license plates go into effect?"

Through the efforts of our library staff, these questions and many more were easily looked up and answered. This group of students deserves recognition for their contribution to the student body.

"A Girl"

G. A. A.

The Girls Athletic Association stresses good sportsmanship and cooperation among the girls. Participation in various outside activities, intramurals, and in class results in girls working toward the goal of winning the coveted emblems and letters.

Early in the year the group chose the following leaders: Susie Gudermuth, president; Judy Rowe, secretary; Barbara Anderson, treasurer. Miss Helen Meyer, the girl's physical education director, sponsors the organization.

A small group of members of the G A A who were particularly interested in archery formed an organization which met after school.

"Teach Me Tonight"

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Miss Frances Bolen, provides a general insight into the teaching profession, and helps the members prepare for college.

This year, Ann Howald was chosen president; Judy Marchbank, vice-president; Judy Fritz, secretary-treasurer; and Nancy Taus, librarian.

The organization had many activities planned; but because of the snow vacation, most of them had to be canceled.

Among the activities that the future teachers were able to carry out were: a trip to Missouri University, trips to other district schools to observe different teaching methods; a cleanup campaign, and a talk by Miss Elaine Williams on preparation for college.

The group attempts to foster interest in teaching as a career and should be commended for the progress it has made.

Pep Squad

One of the most active organizations this year has been the Pep Squad. Throughout the year this group helped the cheerleaders in their efforts to support the teams.

At the first meeting of the group, on October 7, Kay McKinley was chosen president; Barb Anderson, vice-president; and Carol Lee Funk, secretary-treasurer.

There were 45 girls in the Pep Squad this year: we hope this organization will continue to grow and to assist the cheerleaders of our teams at Eureka High School.

Cheerleaders

Barbara Hemann, Doris McGee, Pattie Parker, and Hazel Schreiber were our energetic cheerleaders. This team was chosen by the student body on Friday, November 11, 1955,

The cheerleaders' continued support and expert cheering led our teams to many victories. The attractive quartet of blondes was unusually faithful in the performance of their duties, and their efforts were appreciated by the students and the basketball squad.

Baseball

The Eureka baseball team, under the good coaching of Bob Rayon, had a season record of nine wins and three defeats. Eureka took second place in the final league standings of the South County League.

George Arft sparked the team in the hitting department with a sizzling .426 batting average. Right behind George were Otto Barnhouse with . 409, Jerry Donovan at .336, Bob Glaser .344, and Jerry Corley with .324. The team average for the year was a fine .301.

The pitching was done by Jorden Vesper with a record of 1 and 0, Charley Wagner with 4 and 1, and Ray Bopp with 4 and 2.

George Arft, Ray Bopp, and Jerry Corley were selected for th's years South County All Star Team.

"B" Basketball

After a very slow start, this years "B" team ended the season by winning their last eight games out of eleven. This finish was topped by the first place trophy taken in the "B" team South County Tournament. The record of 11 wins and 9 loses is the best a Eureka "B" team has had for four years. The outlook for the Eureka basketball teams seems to be well in hand.

"A" Basketball

The 1955-56 "A" team had its ups and downs during the seasonal play. The overall record of 12 and 12 does not show the true ability of our team, as many games were lost by bad breaks in the closing minutes of the games. However, the team did show its true competitive spirit by winning the annual South County Tournament.

Orchestra

The orchestra was organized as a string group this year, meeting twice a week during the sixth hour. Brass, reeds, and percussion were added only when preparing for a program.

The group played for the operetta, making its first public appearance. The newly formed orchestra also participated in the annual spring concert.

Dance Band

The Dance Band has finished a successful year while attending Eureka High. Among their outside engagements this year were performances at the Crystal Lake Country Club, a New Year's Dance in St. Louis, and a Tacky Dance at Creve Coeur. The Martinis have provided music for several school activities including the Barn Warming Dance and the FHA Valentine Dance. This summer the group plans to play for weddings and other dances.

The Eureka High Dance Band, which plans to remain togehter, will be known as the Martinis.

Band

The Eureka High School Band has contributed a great deal of entertainment to this school year.

At the beginning of the year, the band members chose the following to direct the year's activities: Bill Norsworthy, president: Forrest Gilley, vice-president; Ann Howald, secretary; Judy Marchbank, treasurer.

Although the band had a full schedule, it was always willing to help out when it was necessary. It has played at several of the basketball games, an assembly at Crestview, and an assembly at Eureka. In addition to this it marched at Valley Park, presented a Spring concert, and several members played in the all-county band.

Its last public appearance of the year was at graduation where it wrapped up a perfect year of work with the playing of "Pomp and Circumstance."

Girls Glee Clubs

The Girls Glee Clubs, under the direction of Miss Jane Mattingly and Mrs. Derry Sparlin, participated in several musical events during the school term. The girls meet three times a week, the second, fourth, and sixth hours.

This year they took part in the Vesper Services along with the Choir, gave the Christmas assembly, and attended the Musical Festival.

Music plays a large part in school activities and we extend many thanks to these groups for their participation and co-operation in school activities.

Boys Glee Club and Double Quartet

On Tuesdays and Thursdays during third and fourth hours, there comes the pleasing sound of male voices from the music building, where the boys glee clubs are meeting. The boys, under the direction of Miss Harttman, have provided a great deal of entertainment for EHS this year.

To start the ball rolling, the groups presented an assembly for Crestview Junior High. They also participated in the Vespers, Thanksgiving assembly, the operetta, and the Easter assembly. The glee clubs took a singing tour of several schools and presented an assembly of their own.

The boys double quartet, composed of glee club members, took part in several assemblies. Among these were the operetta, Crestview, and a special song for graduation.

Choir

The choir has completed another successful year. The group contributed much enjoyment to our own student body and to neighboring schools which the choir visited.

The students chosen to help assist Miss Harttman are: Bill Lewis, president; David Hall, vice-president; Glenna Huskey, secretary; Joann Tilker, treasurer.

Among the activities in which the choir has participated were the Christmas Vespers, the Spring Festival, and the biggest undertaking, the operetta, "S.S. Manhattan", which was a decided success.

3rd Row — W. Ruck, B. Bennett.

Junior Play

The Junior Play was presented on November 18 at matinee and evening performances.

"Love Is In the Air" included in the cast: Bob Fridley, Sandra Sides, Susan Williamson, Marlene Schnarr, Wayne Ruck, John Campbell, Jane Buddemeyer, Kurt Diekmann, Janet Schultz, Sue Taber, Carolyn Benson, Glenna Huskey, and Barry Bennett. Carol Lee Funk was assistant director.

All those who worked on the set, stage properties, publicity, and lighting are to be congratulated for a splendid job. Vincent Howard was stage manager, and the music between acts was provided by Ronald Krausch.

This delightful comedy about the younger members of the family who decided their parents lacked romance in their lives, was chosen by the director, Miss Eleanor Johnson, who trained the cast so expertly that the play was a great success.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

4th Row — J. Corley, R. Bennett, B. Schimsa, J. Vesper, V. Howard.

Senior Play

On April 26, the senior class of 1956 presented the dramatic play, "The Crime at Blossoms," an unusual offering due to the element of mystery involved.

"The Crime at Blossoms" aroused the interest of the audience since the identity of the criminal is not revealed until late in the play. The action of the play takes place in the cottage where the crime is committed while the Merrymans, the owners of the cottage are away. The house had been left in the care of Mrs. Woodman, a neighbor, while the Merrymans were vacationing . When Mr. and Mrs. Merryman returned the cottage, Valerie wanted to turn the Garden Room into a show place. Since the Merrymans needed money desperately, Valerie seized the opportunity to exhibit the room and at the same time earn money. Then after the home had been converted into a showplace, Valerie realized how wrong it was and so wished to return to the original status. It was not until the very last of the play that it was revealed who had really murdered the two people.

The play built up to a wonderful climax, and the cast gave two commendable performances; the shows directed by Miss Eleanor Johnson proved to be very successful.

Junior-Senior Prom

On May 19, the Eureka High School Auditorium was transformed into a colorful Parisian setting for the occasion of the Junior-Senior Promenade. The Eiffel Tower dominated the Paris scene. Miniature towers were used as centerpieces for the tables. The favors were berets for the boys and dancing girls for the girls. A typical outdoor cafe scene accented one gym wall; oppcsite was the skyline of Paris. Light blue, dark blue, flame, and silver were the colors used to transform the auditorium into a Parisian setting.

The prom was a splendid success and a credit to Mrs. Harry Gudermuth and her Junior Prom Committtee, who made this delightful evening possible.
